

I think that the proposed digital tv copyright protection rules should not be implemented. Despite the industries claim to contrary the the ability of consumers to record programs and watch them when they want would be impaired. It would also impinge on the fair use portion of copyright laws.